WINE OF THE WEEK!

Borsao 2017 Garnacha (Spain)

Proof that garnacha can give a fruity and charming wine. Juicy and slightly sweet, but with a fresh, dry finish that says barbecue! Drink now. Screw cap.

89 POINTS JAMES SUCKLING

$7.49

Pannonica 2014 Red (Austria)

Lots of fleshy black and red cherry fruit swishes on nose and palate. It is juicy fruit that firmly stands in the foreground on a fluid palate which also has lovely, exciting tinges of white pepper spice. The body is fresh and light, the finish is refreshing and moreish.

89 POINTS WINE ENTHUSIAST

Gooseneck 2017 Grenache Rosé (Spain)

Prickly aromas of citrus and pyrazines turn more powdery and soapy with airing. A straightforward palate evokes no reaction, while this tan-colored rosé tastes of generic melon, apple and stone fruits prior to a briny finish that fades with nary a peep.

85 POINTS WINE ENTHUSIAST

$10.99

Erath 2015 Pinot Gris (Oregon)

Light and open-textured, with lime and green guava flavors on a sleek frame. Lively finish. Drink now.

88 POINTS WINE SPECTATOR

Leyda 2016 "Garuma" Single Vineyard Sauvignon Blanc (Chile)

This is always a sharp, citric, herbal and electric example of Sauvignon Blanc. It has a very mineral finish with marked acidity. It has good structure and citric, electric acidity from a clone that has strong herbal characteristics. Simply delicious and very tasty with an almost salty finish. Great price, too.

92 POINTS WINE ADVOCATE

$16.49

Philippe Girard 2017 Sancerre (France)

Pure and steely, with gooseberry, lime pith and flint notes that keep a chiseled feel through the tangy, mouthwatering finish. Drink now through 2020.

91 POINTS WINE SPECTATOR

$22.49

Completely fermented in French oak, 20% new, the 2015 Chardonnay Hungry Blond offers a rock-star Chardonnay experience at a very affordable price!
