Wine of the Week!

Borsao 2015 "Tres Picos" Garnacha (Spain)

Opaque ruby. Powerful aromas of black currant and candied cherry pick up incense, vanilla and exotic spice nuances with air. Deeply concentrated dark berry and spicecake flavors are complicated by notes of smoky minerals and floral pastilles, while a subtle peppery quality adds spiciness. Supple tannins give shape to the very long, smoke-tinged finish, where the floral note echoes strongly.

Chateau Maris 2016 Minervois (France)
The only 2016 I was able to taste, the 2016 Minervois Maris delivers lots of garrigue, pepper and sweet fruit in a charming style. The 2016 is made from 70% Syrah and 30% Grenache and was brought up all in concrete tanks. It's not going to make old bones, but is a perfect mid-week drinker.

Mas Donis 2014 "Old Vine" Garnacha (Spain)
The nose is like Garnacha cotton candy with red fruit and a touch of smoked meat. The tannins are soft and the texture is silky, ending with a very tasty note. Great value and produced in good volume.

Neil Ellis 2014 "The Left Bank" Red (South Africa)
A chocolaty coating over a core of slightly jammy raspberry and cherry fruit flavors gives this an accessible, easy feel. Cabernet Sauvignon, Shiraz and Merlot. Drink now.

Momo 2015 Sauvignon Blanc (New Zealand)
The 2015 Organic Sauvignon Blanc is beginning to show a little development with honey and lanolin notes over a core of peaches and lemon curd plus a waft of dried herbs. The medium-bodied palate gives excellent intensity with a satiny texture and plenty of verve, finishing on a honeyed lemon note.

Merryvale 2016 "Starmont" Sauvignon Blanc (California)
Fermented in a combination of neutral French oak and stainless steel and blended with 2% Sémillon, this lively white sizzles with lemony acidity and a strong streak of grapefruit and lemongrass flavor. With its high acidity and crispness, it has length and zip.
