WINES TO DISCOVER

Esteban Martin 2021 Garnacha/Syrah (Spain)
 This shows aromas of ripe, fleshy plums, baking spices, dried citrus peel and wet stones. Medium-to full-bodied with delicious blue fruit, glossy tannins and a creamy texture. Ripe and mellow, yet with fresh and crunchy character. Flavorful finish.
 92 Points James Suckling

$7⁴⁵

Nielson 2022 Chardonnay (California)
 This bottling, formerly from a historic site in Santa Barbara County but now 75% from Monterey County, brings a lot to the table for a favorable price. Aromas of citrus sorbet and wet stone lead from the nose into a palate offering brisk apple, more citrus and high acidity.
 91 Points Vinous

$13⁴⁵

San Leonardo 2021 "Terre" Rosso (Italy)
 This wine tells stories. It starts with bright red berries then deepens into plums and spices, like a conversation that gets better as the night goes on. The tannins are so refined they feel like they were tailored on Savile Row. There's an energy here that makes you want to slow down and pay attention, but it's so good you keep forgetting to take notes.
