Wine OF THE Week

BARAHONDA 2017 "CARRO" TINTO (SPAIN)

The red blend 2017 Carro mixes Monastrell, Syrah, Tempranillo and Merlot to make a fruit-driven, grapey and juicy wine, bottled unoaked. It's polished and approachable. In fact, I found it a little evolved. Drink up.

Santa Julia 2019 Tintillo (ARGENTINA)

The aromatic and explosive 2019 Tintillo is a blend of Malbec and Bonarda produced with a carbonic maceration, which always produces wines with a very expressive nose. This also has a soft palate with almost unnoticeable tannins, full of raspberries and candy.

Muros Antigos 2019 Vinho Verde (PORTUGAL)

A blend of 40% Loureiro, 40% Avesso and 20% Alvarinho, unoaked and notably crisper and lighter than last year's. This is delicious, not merely well constructed. Yet the acidity beautifully lifts the fruit, so it always seems serious. It is long on the finish, a bit tense and chock-full of flavor. At this level in the lineup, I don't always expect brilliance, but this seems pretty fine right now.

Secret Identity 2019 Rose' (California)

Scents of fresh red berries and citrus fruits carry floral and spice notes. Good concentration to the lively cherry and raspberry flavors, while a hint of orange pith adds zesty lift. The cherry note returns on a persistent finish that features a spicy jolt of white pepper.

Sean Minor 2015 "H Mynors" Zinfandel (CALIFORNIA)

Bold and spicy in flavor, this full-bodied wine offers up oaky, meaty aromas and ample fruit flavors spiced with salt and pepper. It is relatively soft in balance and smooth in texture.

87 POINTS WINE ENTHUSIAST

$15.99

Red Newt 2014 "Tango Oaks" Riesling (NEW YORK)

Another knockout from Red Newt's lineup of 2014s, the Tango Oaks is complex and fascinating, offering a brilliant nose of meyer lemon, thyme, quinine, and apple blossoms. The palate is both succulent and lean, with a gorgeous mineral complexity and a smoky, endless finish. Superb. 4 grams per liter residual sugar.

94 POINTS VINOUS

$19.99

Maysara 2014 "Jamsheed" Pinot Noir (OREGON)

Sleek, elegant and complex, with violet and cherry aromas that lead to spry raspberry, black tea and spice flavors. Drink now through 2020. 5,000 cases made.
